Autumn Cruise aboard m.v. "Lomond Laird" on

Saturday 10th September 2005

Previous attempts to cruise on Loch Lomond have always been based around the operators at Balloch, but for the Club's Autumn Cruise this year, it has been decided to charter one of the boats serving the northern end of the Loch sailing on waters that as a Club, we last visited over twenty years ago.

Sailing aboard Lomond Laird, we shall be departing from Tarbet and sailing to the northern end of the loch, calling at Inveruglas before making our way right to the very end of the loch at Ardlui. From there, we shall be heading down the east side of the loch to Inversnaid, then continuing south to Rowardennan. This will allow Club members the opportunity to visit parts of the loch that are nowadays not normally accessible by boat. Time permitting, we may be able to get a short time ashore at Balmaha before heading back up the west side of Loch Lomond past Inverbeg and back to Tarbet.

As we cruise on the loch, a cold buffet will be served. This must be booked separately and in advance, as I need to advise Cruise Loch Lomond of numbers beforehand.

The cruise will depart from Cruise Loch Lomond's base at Tarbet, where there is ample car parking space available. Lomond Laird will sail at 1100, and return to Tarbet around 1700.

The price for this Cruise will be £23 for Adults, with a reduced rate of £10 available for Children. The charge for the Buffet will be £7 (no reductions). During the cruise, the vessel's fully stocked bar will be available for the sale of teas, coffees, beers, wine and spirits.

The Club Committee hopes that this charter will be well supported by members, their families and friends.

Passengers will be carried subject to the Conditions of Carriage of Cruise Loch Lomond Ltd.

This cruise may be subject to alteration, dependant on weather and other circumstances.
